

SENATE PROBES STRIKE CAUSES SEEKING REMEDY

Fitzpatrick First Wit- ness Before Senate Investigation.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Sept. 25.—Even should the U. S. steel corporation consent to meet representatives of the men, the nation-wide strike of steel workers could not be called off, in the opinion of John Fitzpatrick, chairman of the strikers' committee, as expressed today at the opening of the senate labor committee's investigation of the strike.

"The 350,000 men on strike," Fitzpatrick declared, "are going to demand from the United States government justice, decent justice."

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Sept. 25.—Senate investigation of the nation-wide strike of steel workers to determine whether remedial action can be taken by the federal government was opened today with John Fitzpatrick, chairman of the union committee conducting the strike, as the first witness before the education and labor committee.

"Is Gary Coming?"
Fitzpatrick was late in arriving from Pittsburgh and hurried to the committee room, which was crowded with senators, representatives and others interested. He was accompanied by Wm. H. Rubin, counsel for the steel strikers.

At the outset of the hearing, asked what assurance had been given by Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States steel corporation, that he would appear before the committee next Wednesday.

Senator Kenyon replied that Judge Gary had telephoned him that he would be present Wednesday and added that "until that time we will not question his being here."

Rubin requested that the committee place in the record correspondence between Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the president, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Chairman Fitzpatrick regarding efforts to postpone the strike. Senator Kenyon asked Rubin to read the telegrams and letters, which already have been published.

Fitzpatrick talks.
Fitzpatrick opened his statement with what he said was a brief history of labor conditions in the steel industry.

"With the creation of the steel corporation a campaign was begun with the object of pushing government workers out of the mills," he said. "A great sum of money, I don't know whether it was $2,000,000 or $20,000,000, was appropriated. In recent years labor has begun to realize the tremendous importance of the steel industry and its influence on other industries."

Mills Not Progressive.
"While we were getting the eight-hour day and better working conditions elsewhere the steel mills still operated with very long hours and with wages below the proper line. Labor understood then the necessity of organizing the steel industry for the purpose of controlling its effects on the others and at the last two conventions of the federation of labor the step was authorized."

"The men in the steel mill," Fitzpatrick continued, "were looking for relief. They had no hope. They responded in large numbers and it was only a short time until we had a very successful organization."

"Up to a year ago there had been no unionism in the steel mills," asked Chairman Kenyon.

"No," Fitzpatrick replied. "About that time—October, 1918, the steel corporation was resorting to every effort to force action on the part of the men or of the labor organization to spread their influence. They announced establishment of the eight-hour day and we knew that was an effort to prevent our organization."

Federation Took Initiative.
Senator Jones, democrat, New Mexico, asked whether the employee had made application to the American Federation of Labor for organization or whether the movement had been initiated by the American Federation of Labor.

"The American Federation of Labor initiated the movement," Fitzpatrick replied.

"Was there no movement of the men inviting the organization?" asked Senator Jones.

"No, only as the men met in different localities and expressed their desires."

Said Treatment Was Bad.
"Why was it incumbent on the American Federation of Labor to organize the steel industry?" Senator Jones asked.

"It was a bad spot in the industrial situation," Fitzpatrick replied. "In the steel industry the hours are long, the wages small and the treatment—you can't describe the treatment."

Half Million In Trade.
"How many men are employed in steel mills?" asked Senator Kenyon.

"We figure about 500,000," Fitzpatrick replied.

Continuing his statement, Fitzpatrick said, "the steel corporation finally gave assurances that it would establish the eight-hour day but the steel workers paid no attention."

McKeesport Blocked Work.
"Demands kept coming from Youngstown, Pittsburgh that organizers be sent to help them," he said. "The first opposition was met in McKeesport. We were told there we could have no meetings in rented halls or lots. We went to McKeesport and put the matter before city authorities. The mayor said we could not meet there and the city"

JEANGUENAT HIT BY TRAIN; WAS CLOSE TO DEATH

Dixon Youth Stopped Car on Tracks—Lies in Hospital.

Harold Jeanguenat, son of G. L. Jeanguenat, who resides east of Dixon, narrowly escaped being instantly killed at the North-Western crossing at the cut-off on the pump factory road last evening, when a west bound freight train struck the Ford truck in which he was driving. The driver was thrown from the car several feet and rendered unconscious, while the machine was totally wrecked, some pieces being thrown more than a hundred feet from the right of way.

The train was brought to a stop and members of the crew telephoned to Dixon for physicians. Dr. K. B. Segner attended the young man and had him removed to the city hospital at once where an examination revealed no broken bones, but several cuts and bruises. From the effects of his injuries and the anesthetics administered at the hospital, the young man did not regain consciousness until this morning, and is reported to be resting as easily as could be expected.

Stopped on Tracks
Mr. Jeanguenat had been sowing wheat on the farm owned by Mrs. R. H. Hess of this city and rented by him. He had completed his work for the day and was returning home in the Ford delivery truck. At the North-Western crossing he brought his car to a stop to allow an east bound freight to pass, but did not hear or see the train coming rapidly from the east and going in the opposite direction. The big locomotive struck the truck about amidships, reducing it to a mass of splinters and twisted steel.

ITALIAN REBELS MARCH ON JUGO SLAV HOLDINGS

Peace Meeting Grave —Italian Government is Helpless.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, Sept. 25.—Apparently in emulation of Captain Gabriele D'Annunzio whose dramatic seizure of Fiume centered the attention of the world on the eastern littoral of the Adriatic, other Italian leaders are reported to be advancing on Squalato, Sebenico and Trau, important towns along the coast which have been under the control of Jugo Slav forces. Peace circles are plainly concerned over the situation which seems to have become quite grave.

ITALY IN DILEMMA.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Rome, Sept. 25.—Cabinet ministers do not conceal the enormous gravity of the situation and the serious difficulty, not to say the impossibility of finding a satisfactory solution to the Fiume problem. They do not want to use force against Captain D'Annunzio, wishing to avoid fratricidal conflict, and it is said, that this hesitation may be partly due to the fact that troops ordered against the poet's forces might refuse to obey orders.

Persuasion, it is said here, is useless without agreeing to Captain D'Annunzio's conditions—the annexation of the port of Fiume and the hinterland to Italy proper. It is asserted that if the Italian government should accept such conditions she would have against her not only her allies but her erstwhile enemies, headed by Jugo Slavia, which perhaps would already have acted but for internal troubles and the lack of a responsible man in power.

GARIBALDI BLAMES ALLIES.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, Sept. 25.—(Havas).—The crisis through which Italy is passing is imputed to the great powers by General Giuseppe (Peppino) Garibaldi, in an interview printed in the Petit Parisien this morning. He reproaches them for not having given Italy all that was promised in the treaty of London and declares it to be the intention of the Italian people to keep Fiume "even at the price of another war."

"It depends on France and England," he says, "whose populations are with Italy in the Fiume affair. Whatever should be President Wilson's answer to Italy's proposals, we will say to him that this dispute is between Europeans and must be settled between Europeans. We know the American, French and British peoples are with us in this matter."

HYPHENS KNIVES STUCK IN TREATY SAYS PRESIDENT

Wilson in Denver Flays Opponents of Cove- nant of League.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Denver, Colo., Sept. 25.—Declaring the issue in the peace treaty discussion at last had been "clearly drawn," President Wilson said in an address here today that the "question squarely facing the nation was whether the United States would keep its pledges to help guarantee the peace of the world."

Would Reject Treaty.
All of the minor objection to the treaty had been disposed of, he asserted, and the whole discussion now had settled down upon the heart of the league of nations covenant—the guarantees of article ten. Adoption of a reservation like that proposed in the senate, he declared, would be equivalent to rejection of the treaty.

Shanting Cleared Up.
Of all the subject matter in the treaty aside from the league covenant, Mr. Wilson said, the Shanting provision was the only one criticized. That objection now had been cleared away, he continued, as had the lesser objections urged against the covenant itself.

Objection Exploded.
The president touched briefly upon the voting power of the British empire in the league assembly, saying that objections on that score had been "exploded when it became known that the British dominions 'have six votes in the assembly but the assembly don't vote.'"

Charges Disloyalty.
On the final issue, as it had settled down about the question of reservations, said the president, there was no organized opposition to the treaty "except among the people who tried to defeat the purpose of the government in the war."

"Hyphens," added he, while the crowd cheered, "are the knives being stuck into this document."

"Qualified adoption" of the treaty, Mr. Wilson said, was "not adoption but (Continued from Page 6.)"

REV. NEWTON IS TO RETURN HOME

By Associated Press Leased Wire
London, Wednesday, Sept. 24.—(Via Montreal)—Dr. Joseph Fort Newton, the American pastor of the famous City Temple since 1916 has received a call from a church in the United States and it is expected he will accept. Before going to London he was pastor of the Liberal Christian church (universalist) at Cedar Rapids, Ia.

TO GUNSAUL'S CHURCH?

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Cedar Rapids, Ia., Sept. 25.—It is understood here that the Rev. Dr. Fort Newton has accepted a call to the central church, Chicago, of which the Rev. Dr. F. W. Gunsauls, formerly was pastor. In a letter to friends here a few weeks ago, Dr. Newton spoke of the tender of the Chicago pulpit and indicated that he might accept it. Dr. Newton formerly was a newspaper man on the staff of the Courier Journal at Louisville, Ky.

Formerly of Dixon
Rev. Newton, who is mentioned in the above Associated Press dispatches as considering returning to the United States, is a former Dixon pastor. For a number of years he was pastor of the People's church in Dixon and has many friends in this city.

FIND PART OF BIG PAYROLL BURIED IN CAN

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Sept. 25.—With the recovery of $42,500 found buried on the farm of Connerly (John) Weida, father of John S. Weida, clerk in the Chicago postoffice, who is said to have planned the robbery, the amount recovered from the $234,000 stolen from a registered reserve bank to the Chicago federal reserve bank at Whiting, Ind., Thursday, last night was brought to $131,500. The money was found wrapped in old rags and buried in a milk can. It was the younger Weida's share of the loot, according to officials.

The missing money is believed, the police say to be in the possession of a man who disappeared with the arrests Tuesday night of the younger Weida and Leo and Walter Filipkowski. The Filipkowski brothers, with the missing man, are said to have done the actual robbing. Much of the money recovered was placed in safety deposit boxes by them or members of their family.

DIXON K. C. TO GO TO FREEPORT MEETING

About 100 members of the Knights of Columbus will go to Freeport on Sunday, Oct. 12, to participate in the Landing Day celebration to be held in that city on that day. It is quite likely that the local delegation will be accompanied by the Dixon band. The several special committee of the organization are working hard to make Dixon's part in the affair a decided success. It is reported that Sterling will send a large delegation and will also have with the delegation the Sterling band. Special trains will be run from Galena and other cities. A special train starting at LaSalle will carry the Dixon and Sterling delegations.

MRS. WALLACK SAYS SHE SHOT IN DEFENSE

Dixon Woman Who Killed Husband Says He Made Threats.

Mrs. Mason Wallack, a former resident of this city, held at Oskaloosa, Ia., for the murder of her husband Tuesday evening, pleads that she committed the act in self defense. Mrs. Wallack is quoted as saying that her former husband threatened to kill her and their two sons and that she then shot him in defense of herself and the children.

No additional details of the murder have been received locally today. It is expected that the body will arrive tomorrow morning and be taken at once to the Preston funeral chapel, from where the funeral will be conducted. Interment will be in Oakwood.

NATION-WIDE STRIKE OF COAL MINERS SET FOR NOVEMBER FIRST

Operators and Union Men Meet in Buffalo in Effort to Avert It.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 25.—With a general strike of soft coal miners in the United States set tentatively for Nov. 1, operators and representatives of the men met here today in an effort to avert it by reaching an agreement on questions of wages, working hours and working conditions.

Ask 60 Per Cent Raise

The report of the scale committee presented at the meeting of the United Mine Workers of America at Cleveland this week includes demands for a flat increase in wages of sixty per cent, a six hour day, five days a week, with time and a half for overtime, and double time for all work on Saturdays and holidays. Any agreement reached at the scale conference here must be submitted for ratification to an adjourned meeting of the United Mine Workers convention at Indianapolis.

The operators' delegation numbered thirty-two prominent mine owners from Ohio, Indiana and western Pennsylvania, headed by Thomas W. Brewster of Illinois as chairman. John L. Lewis, acting president, and Wm. Green, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, and thirty-two representatives from the four district organizations in the central competitive field, participated in the conference on behalf of the miners.

At the outset the miners and operators seemed far from an agreement. Prominent operators in conversation before the opening of the meeting characterized the miners' demands as far too radical for acceptance. It was generally admitted that an agreement would be reached only after long deliberation if at all.

DEKALB STRIKERS TAKEN BY POLICE

UNION STATE BANK IS PLANNING TO ENLARGE ITS BANKING ROOMS

Improvement in Quarters is Announced by E. J. Countryman.

E. J. Countryman, cashier of the Union State bank announced this morning that the board of directors of that institution plan extensive improvements on the building now occupied by the bank. Work is to be started in the very near future. At this time, the plans are incomplete and no details of changes or additions were made public. The rapid growth of the bank has made it necessary to enlarge as their present quarters are not large enough to accommodate the business.

The Union State bank is now one of the leading banking institutions of this part of the state. It was organized in January, 1902, with C. J. Rosbrook, R. A. Moore, C. F. McKinney, G. C. Loveland and I. B. Countryman as its officers and with a capital stock of $50,000. The bank enjoyed marked growth and on January 1, 1917, the directors voted to increase the capital stock to $100,000. This increase in capital was readily taken over by a long list of stockholders until at the present time the bank enjoys a list of stockholders numbering 75, most of whom are local men residing and having their business interests in and around Dixon.

The surplus of the bank has twice been built up to $20,000 as is shown by the statement published in this issue. The deposits have grown from $289,496.95 on September 12, 1915 to $774,651.61 on the same date of the present year. The total resources of the institution have now passed the one million dollar mark. It has been the policy of the bank to meet every local requirement. In view of the rapidly increasing value of land in this community, Mr. Countryman, its cashier, has organized the National Farmers' Loan association by an act recently passed by the United States legislators. By this act the government loans to land owners direct. Mr. Countryman also represents the first joint land bank for this district the function of which is to loan money in large amounts direct to the farmer.

By qualifying now for trust privileges this bank competes the privileges and functions accorded banking corporations and can act in any capacity as it is privileged to do within the United States.

Strikers Own Stock in U. S. Steel Corp.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Gary, Ind., Sept. 25.—E. A. Lux, secretary of the amalgamated iron, steel and tin workers union of Gary, Ind., is a stockholder in the United States steel corporation which he is now fighting. He worked in the steel mills several years and like many other employees took advantage of the offer made by the company to sell stock to the men. Several months ago when John Fitzpatrick and other labor leaders began organizing the men at the local plants, Lux joined the union and was elected secretary. When the order to strike became effective last Monday he went out with thousands of others and since then has been one of the leaders directing the local fight.

Thousands of the strikers, it is said, own stock in the company.

DEATH AND VIOLENCE AS STRIKE GOES ON IN NO DECISION CONTEST

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 25.—Luke Grogan, a Serbian, was shot and killed by a state trooper here shortly after 11 o'clock when the police searched a house under suspicion of being a sniping post from which shots have been fired at a steel plant.

FIFTY-FIFTY.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 25.—Neither side in the steel workers' strike in the Pittsburgh district made any claims today of great changes in the situation. The fourth day of the walkout found western Pennsylvania comparatively quiet.

BLAME STATE CONSTABULARY.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Youngstown, O., Sept. 25.—Charges that the Pennsylvania state constabulary was responsible for the riots at Newcastile and Farrell were made in a telegram sent today to John Fitzpatrick, chairman of the steel strike committee by S. T. Hammersmark, secretary in charge of strike headquarters in the Youngstown district.

The telegram follows:
"The same speakers and organizers who addressed all meetings of the same class of people in peaceful Youngstown were used in outraged Newcastile and Farrell. Constabulary absolutely responsible for murders and reign of terror in polluted Pennsylvania."

The fact that there has been no disorder of any kind in the Youngstown district, Hammersmark says is because of the attitude of the state and local officials toward labor.

One Company Agrees.

At strike headquarters this morning a copy of an agreement signed last night between the Niles Forge and Manufacturing company, a fabricating company of Niles and its bridge, structural iron workers, machinists and blacksmiths, was made public. The agreement recognizes the union, provides for an eight hour day with four hours on Saturday, time and a half for overtime, double time for Sunday and holidays and nine hours' pay for eight hours' work. This was declared to be a "model agreement." The same form of agreement will be submitted to other fabricating companies in Youngstown district.

By Associated Press Leased Wire:

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 25.—The senate committee investigation at Washington of the nation wide strike of steel workers, today drew the attention of employers, labor leaders and other interested parties in the Pittsburgh district. Reports of actual strike developments were given secondary consideration by those involved in the controversy the Washington inquiry taking precedent over all other news.

Claim Rights Withheld.

The fight of the steel workers for the right of free speech and free assembly in the Pittsburgh district, according to union leaders, is one of the main questions to be brought to the attention of the senate investigators with the demand that "the constitutional rights of the workers be upheld by the federal government."

Little change in the strike situation here was noticeable today. Conflicting statements regarding the number of workers involved in the walkout committee from the employers and the union headquarters with both sides claiming the advantage.

District Quieter.

Disorders in the district, so prominent during the first two days of the strike, have dwindled to sporadic outbreaks in which members of the crowds have been slightly injured and many arrested.

The protest of W. Z. Foster, secretary of the national steel organizing committee, to Governor Sprout of Pennsylvania, against what he termed "unwarranted assaults" by state police on innocent strikers brought the reply that the troops had not charged into crowds until their commands to disband had been defied, and only after shots were fired and missiles thrown at the officers. The labor leader has dispatched a telegram to the governor declaring that the latter had been misinformed regarding the clashes between the troops and crowds, and adding that the state police "are manufacturing a reign of terror in order that the steel workers strike may be discredited and broken."

STORES FEEL STRIKE.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Youngstown, O., Sept. 25.—With the closing of the steel mills in the Mahoning Valley, merchants of Youngstown are beginning to feel the effects already of the curtailment of ready money heretofore so freely spent by the mill workers, they say. Very little outside the necessities is being done and even this is more restricted, they assert. As inactivity of the mills continues they expect conditions to grow even worse.

FARRELL AND SHARON QUIET

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Farrell, Pa., Sept. 25.—The boroughs of Farrell and Sharon remained quiet today. A full company of 54 state police continued to patrol the principal streets of Farrell.

Mass meetings having been forbidden by proclamation here and Sharon, the local secretary of the amalgamated association of iron and steel workers is said to have announced that a meeting would be held across the Ohio line today.

The South Carnegie plant here was in operation today. Officials said more men are returning every day.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Sept. 25.—There was little change today in the steel strike situation in the Chicago district.

At Gary, Ind., the United States steel corporation was reported to be operating its slab mill and about 75 of its 240 coke ovens and it was said that several blast furnaces and the rail mill would be operated later in the day with a limited force of men. More than 1,000 strikers are said to have returned to work yesterday and last night and the company is said to have a force of about 4,000 inside the plant.

Strikers were charged with having greased the rails of switch tracks leading to the mills but no arrests were made.

Union leaders deny that any of the strikers have returned and that the company is operating any of its departments on a production basis.

At Westlake, Ill., the first violence was reported when seven striking employees of the American Steel and Wire company were arrested for making threats against non-union workmen. A night watchman employed by the company was severely beaten by strikers it was reported.

Officials of the company notified its 1800 striking employees that unless they returned to work within a few days that the plant would be shut down for three months. At Indiana Harbor, Ind., it was reported that the 6000 employees of the Inland Steel company were willing to return to work provided they were given adequate police protection. Union labor leaders however, denied any defection from their ranks.

At the Illinois Steel company's plant in South Chicago the slab mill and several blast furnaces were reported to be in operation with a limited force although this was denied by officials of the labor unions. Crowds of strikers gathered about the plant today and jeered workmen who reported for duty.

At Joliet and other points in this district the situation was reported as unchanged and quiet prevailed.

ENGINEERS GO OUT.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Sept. 25.—An official announcement that slab and rail mills of the United States steel corporation plant at Gary, Ind., would be in operation today, which would be the most extensive resumption of work in the Chicago district since the strike of steel workers was called Monday, was counterbalanced by the 195 steam engineers at the Illinois Steel company, of Gary being ordered out on sympathetic strike by their local union. Union leaders asserted that action would close the Illinois steel mills.

Say Men Would Work.

Claims of the industrial and labor leaders still were at variance. Five hundred men at Indiana Harbor, Ind., yesterday attended a meeting and demanded protection for their return to work. Speakers at the meeting stated eighty percent of the 12,000 men on strike at six plants desired to resume work.

At Gary and South Chicago according to labor leaders, the tendency of the men was not to return to work. Officials of the Inland Steel company, at Indiana Harbor were said to have stated that unless striking employees returned to their places today in sufficient numbers to operate the plants, they would be closed down for from three to nine months.

South Chicago Rioting.

In the only rioting of the day reported in the Chicago district, one man was severely beaten at South Chicago last night.

VIOLENCE IN WAUKEGAN.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Waukegan, Ill., Sept. 25.—Seven striking employees of the American Steel & Wire company were arrested last night charged with making threats to assault non-union workmen and burn down their homes. They were released on bonds of $10,000 each and their cases continued until Oct. 1.

This morning Chris Anderson, a night watchman, in the employ of the company for 24 years, was set upon by five men and severely beaten as he was returning home from the plant.

Officials of the company notified their striking employees today that unless they returned within a few days the plant would be shut down for three months. The workmen ignored the warning.

The company which employs 1,800 men, is

FOREST FIRES SPREAD FASTER IN CALIFORNIA

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 25.—Two disastrous fires in the Los Angeles national forest were spreading today according to officials of the forest service. Jumping a hastily constructed fire break, a fire in the region of Thousand Pines, 20 miles northeast of San Bernardino, Calif., was sweeping toward Pine Crest and Squirrel Inn, two large resorts in the San Bernardino mountains.

One hundred men fighting fires in the big Tejonja canyon about ten miles north of Pasadena were forced to flee for their lives when the fire, accelerated by a wind destroyed their camp.

While it has been impossible to estimate accurately the total area burned over by the fires, it was known to be considerably in excess of 100,000 acres, forestry officials said. The principal damage has been to water sheds, forming the source of water supply for a number of southern California communities.

SOX CINCH PENNANT IN 9TH YESTERDAY

Chicago Gets American League Championship with Jackson's Fly.

A long hard hit fly to deep center off Joe Jackson's bat cinched the 1919 American league pennant for the Chicago White Sox yesterday afternoon in one of the hardest contested games of the season with the St. Louis Browns. Ed. Cicotte, the Sox star twirler was driven from the mound in the seventh inning after the Browns had slammed his offerings to all parts of the park. He proved incapable of holding them in the first innings when the visitors piled up a neat lead.

Kerr was sent in to replace Cicotte and finished the contest. Sothoron for the Browns was effective against the Sox and had their hardest hitters swinging wildly at his offerings. Three well earned runs in the opening round and another added in the third, were gained by the Browns off Cicotte. After the third he tightened up but lasted only until the seventh, when a pair of triples caused him to be taken out of the game.

The game was full of thrills for both sides. Captain Eddie Collins was banished from the contest early in the game for disputing a decision and McMullin finished in his place.

The pennant was not nailed fast to the Sox mast until their half of the ninth inning. Dick Kerr, who had replaced Cicotte, led off with a well placed single, going to second on Liebold's single to center. McMullin, who now filled Captain Collins position was next up and was allowed a walk, filling the bases.

Weaver sent a long fly to center. Kerr scoring from third and Liebold reaching the third cushion after Jacobson had caught the fly. Joe Jackson connected with one of Sothoron's deliveries sending it into deep center for at least two bases, and the championship of the American league was decided by a victory for the Sox by a 6 to 5 count.

British Rail Men May Strike Friday

By Associated Press Leased Wire

London, Sept. 25.—Sir Eric Geddes, minister of transport will today meet representatives of the national union of railway men which yesterday presented a virtual ultimatum to the government demanding that a basis for the standardization of wages be settled. In the event the situation is not adjusted, according to J. H. Thomas, secretary of the union a strike that will be nationwide will be called on Friday.

Unlike several recent labor threats which were instigated by extremists against the advice of leaders, yesterday's sensational demand by railway men emanated from union chiefs who acted after a deliberate conference.

Harvey Sindlinger left Tuesday on a business trip to Freeport and Rockford.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

By JANE PHELPS.

SANDRA IS IMPRESSED. CHAPTER LXXXII.

When I had reached my room I stood before the dressing table. I wiped the tears from my eyes, took a book and sat down to read. I would not obey him and go to bed, altho I really was tired. No, Leola had defied him and he had worshipped her. I too would defy him as far as I dared—now. Perhaps the time would come when I would dare as much as had Leola. And then he would worship me.

I read in a desultory way until my attention was attracted by this paragraph: "Some souls," it said, "have the power of merging themselves in another and when the other is gone the power of loving is gone too. One is then compelled to live in the memory of past happiness, happiness that I can't explain, even to you." Of course the closing phrase referred to the person in the story to whom the one quoted was talking.

I read and re-read the paragraph: "When the other is gone the power of loving is gone too. One is compelled to live in the memory of past happiness, even to you."

Was this true of Everett? Had his soul been so merged with the soul of Leola that when she had gone his power of loving had gone also?

I felt that perhaps at last I had found a solution of Everett's seeming indifference to me. He had lost the power of loving when he lost his happiness—Leola.

But if this were so, I had no reason to fear another woman; and I did fear Irma Barton. Even if he were not in love with her, Everett had no right to be with her, entertaining or being entertained, while I sat at a one with no company but books. Often, too, when we were alone he was tired from the labors of the day—or so he said. I always felt irritated when this was so, because of my knowledge of his powers fascinating others with his conversation when he chose.

As I thought of this I was angry and humiliated. Of course I couldn't be expected to hold so brilliant a man's interest. It must be true what they all said—he had married a young, a very young and healthy woman because he wanted a family.

Hetty broke in upon my musings. "Mr. Kemp is calling," she told me.

One glance at the mirror told me that all traces of tears were gone.

"I will be down at once. Show him into the library." Just for a moment I recalled what Everett had said about receiving Walter Kemp, but only for a moment. My only feeling was one of delight that he had remembered me, had cared enough to call.

"I will see him—just as Leola would!" I whispered to myself when again a stray feeling that Everett would not approve swept over me as I descended the stairs.

"This is good of you," Kemp remarked as I entered the library.

"What is?" I asked saucily, "allowing you to entertain me when I was bored to death by my own society."

"Mr. Graham is not at home?" Then, after a second, "I had hoped to find him."

An embarrassed flush made my face burn as I replied:

"We only returned from a visit to my old home this afternoon, and like all busy men Mr. Graham found matters that needed his attention," yet as I had spoken glibly, I had a feeling that Walter Kemp did not accept my excuse. My resentment against Everett increased.

But I soon forgot Everett in listening to the airy periffage of my caller. His brilliant dark eyes looked down into mine with the same admiration in them I had seen that day when he lifted me from the dusty road after our accident.

How I cudgelled my brain in vain for witty repartee with which to reply to his nonsense. But he seemed to be satisfied, and soon I was chatting of my visit home, my delight in meeting all my old friends, and the party mother gave the night before we left.

"Oh, that I might have been there!" he said with mock regret. "Am I never to have a dance with you?"

"If we meet at some private house, yes," I answered in the same careless tone. "But Everett—my husband does not approve of my dancing in public places with anyone but him—and that not often."

"I don't wonder he is afraid of losing you. If you belonged to me, I would buy a desert island, and lock you up on it."

"Oh, how dreadful!" Then to ease the situation, I asked: "Shall we go into the music room? Would you like some music?" He rose and followed willingly enough. Then as I switched on the lights he said:

"I see you have a victrola. We can have a dance together right now," and without waiting he opened the machine and adjusted a popular fox trot.

Tomorrow—Kemp is Forbidden the House.

ANNOUNCEMENT

At a recent meeting of the directors of the Union
State Bank it was voted unanimously to qualify for Trust privileges. The Union State Bank will very soon be also a Trust Company. Its name will be *The Union
State Bank and Trust Company*.

It will then be ready to act as Assignee, Trustee, Guardian, Receiver, Conservator, Executor, Administrator and may be chosen by individuals or appointed by the court to act in such capacity. The desirability of Banking Corporations being selected to serve in these ways is being recognized daily owing to their stability and security. $50,000.00 worth of United States Government Bonds will be deposited with the Secretary of State at Springfield and held by him as a guarantee of the proper performance of the duties as a Trust Company. This, in addition to the Million Dollar Resources of this growing bank.

We also have arrangements with the Government to loan on farm lands. Mr. Countryman has organized a National Farm Loan Association and represents the First Joint Stock Land Bank, through which agencies we can loan on farms in large amounts at a low interest rate for a period of 34 years, with easy payments. The Union State Bank and Trust Company will therefore be the best all around equipped bank in

WHITE SOX PRESENT ALMOST SAME TEAM AS IN 1917 BIG SERIES

Gleason Has Large Num- ber of World Series Veterans on Team.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Sept. 25.—When "Kid" Gleason succeeded Clarence Rowland as manager of the Chicago Americans and started the 1919 season with the same lineup that finished sixth in the 1918 pennant race after winning the world's championship in 1917, few baseball experts figured that the White Sox would win the American league flag this season.

But that is what has happened and the "wise ones" are offering all sorts of reasons for the startling reversal of form. They say that playing under a new leader was a contributing factor, but all agree that perhaps the main one was that the players themselves entered the game this season with a renewed confidence following the termination of the world war. Last season a majority of the White Sox were expecting to be called into military service any day, and this with the classification of baseball as "non-essential" was a disturbing situation.

The 1918 White Sox was a team grinding over the pennant road minus some of its main cogs. Joe Jackson, the club's leading batter this season went into the shipyards after batting .354 for seven games; Oscar "Happy" Felsch, quit the club after playing in fifty-three games; Pitcher Faber enlisted in the navy after winning five or six games, while Pitcher Claude Williams went to work in the shipyards when he had won six and lost four games. The loss of these four players proved a staggering blow.

Added to this loss, Eddie Cicotte, the veteran right handed and leading pitcher in 1917, was in a slump during the entire season, winning only twelve games and losing nineteen. But it was a different Cicotte this season. His remarkable comeback has been one of the sensations of the year and his effective pitching is one of the chief reasons why the White Sox finished out in front.

That the White Sox will have practically a veteran line-up when the club enters the baseball classic against Cincinnati is shown by the following comparison of the 1917 and 1919 line-ups:

1917—Liebold lf; McMullin 3b; E. Collins 2b; Jackson 1b; Felsch cf; Gandil 1b; Weaver ss; Schalk c.

1919—Liebold lf; Weaver 3b; E. Collins 2b; Jackson 1b; Felsch cf; Gandil 1b; Risberg ss; Schalk c.

Risberg was with the club in 1917, but was benched by Manager Rowland for the world's series owing to his erratic playing.

Former Sox With Reds.

It is a singular coincidence that five members of the Cincinnati Nationals formerly wore the uniforms of the White Sox.

Eddie Rousch, star batter and outfielder with the Reds, was with the White Sox for a tryout under the management of Jimmy Callahan in 1913, but was released to Lincoln. Morris Rath, the Reds second baseman also was with the White Sox under Callahan. He was released to the Kansas City club where he came to the front as a .300 hitter. He was signed by Cincinnati last season—and made good from the start.

"Hod" Eller, who has been pitching remarkable ball for the Reds was on the White Sox roster during the spring training trip of 1916, but was released to the Moline club of the Three-I-League. Eller started his professional career in the Three-I-League, which also produced Clarence Rowland, whom "Kid" Gleason succeeded as manager of the White Sox. Rowland was the first to recognize Eller's major league possibilities and gave him a chance to qualify in fast company.

While the team was in training at Mineral Wells, Texas, Eller "palled" with Dave Danforth and other pitchers, and picked up a lot of valuable information. His rise to baseball fame with the Reds has been rapid. Like Eddie Cicotte, one of the pitching stars of the White Sox, Eller's best year previous to this season was in 1917. He won ten out of fifteen games. He has been one of the pitching mainstays of the Red's staff this season.

The Sox also contributed two more players to the Reds, concerning whom little is heard. They are Henry Schreiber, utility infielder, who was with the Chicago club in 1914, and Artemus Ward Allen, a catcher, who was with Comiskey's club for a short time in 1911, later going to Minneapolis.

LYMAN H. HOWE'S REMARKABLE VARIETY OF PROGRAM.

Lyman H. Howe's Travel Festival, for many years a public institution in motion picture entertainment, comes to the opera house on Tuesday, September 30th upon its silver jubilee tour. Mr. Howe's entertainment has always been noted for its diversity of program. Great care has been given to rounding out the anniversary program and for months cameramen have been scouring the whole world for material.

The result is a remarkable round-up of interesting features. For instance, Mr. Howe's Travel Festival will take audiences to Bethlehem, Pa., where the great steel plants may be viewed at close range. Then to the Canadian Rockies, where a hike leads over dangerous icy crags and slippery snow-capped peaks. On to Peru, where we ride down the Andes on a hand-car, past quaint herds of llamas, by old monasteries, and through picturesque native villages. Next to Lake Sebago in the Maine wilderness, where, at Camp Wobela, we watch hundreds of young women disport at swimming and living. From Maine we move to Charleston, S. C., where we visit the placid and beautiful Magnolia Gardens, famed throughout the country. On to Florida, where we indulge in thrilling tarpon fishing. Then, to cap the climax Mr. Howe's cameramen take us to the homes and haunts of the big motion picture stars in all parts of the country, where we see the famous favorites at close range and as they really are. This remarkable program is balanced by a number of unusual novelties, aniated cartoons and trick pictures. There is a remarkable picture of dexterous clay modelling, a corking dog and cat animated cartoon and a half dozen other amusing and entertaining novelties. "The best all-around program of my career," says Mr. Howe, and he ought to know.

Phil Miller came out from Chicago last evening to visit several days with his family.

ONLY after seeing our splendid Fall displays can you fully appreciate the service this store is giving---and this in the face of conditions such as have never prevailed in the clothing trade.

Good clothes are hard to get because of the curtailing of production, scarcity of wool fabrics and the unprecedented demand.

Not only has the volume of this store's business doubled with in the last year but the number of sales has increased to such an extent that we were obliged to draw on future orders to supply the rapidly growing patronage.

The fact that our buying connections extend to practically all of the better clothing manufacturers and that Fall purchases were made early last Spring, when clothing was the cheapest it has been for a year, has enabled us to show larger and better assortments at prices lower than you ordinarily have to pay.

You'll like the new styles in Suits and Overcoats priced from $30 to $55

NEW DECLARES PRESIDENT IS "MISLEADING"

Ind. Senator Attacks Wilson Statements on League Covenant.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, Sept. 25.—In asserting that the British empire could not out-vote the United States in the league of nations under the covenant as now drawn, President Wilson, either through "misunderstanding or misrepresentation," is "misleading" the American people, Senator New, republican, of Indiana, declared in an address today in the senate.

Launching a general attack on the league as a "one sided" argument under which this country would be required to protect the territory of other nations without needing reciprocal service from them, Senator New at the same time criticized many details of the covenant and dwelt at length on the question of relative votes of Great Britain and this country in the league assembly.

Calls Details Vital

Details are the essence of such an important matter as this, the senator declared, yet the president has called upon the senate to "forget the details." "The president," he said, "would substitute this phrase for the slogan of 'safety first.' What would happen on a railroad, the senator asked, if it replaced its 'safety first' signs with an injunction to its employees to 'forget the details.'"

Taking issue with the president's assertion that Great Britain's six votes in the assembly would be no more powerful than the one vote of this country because action of the assembly must be by unanimous vote, the Indiana senator declared Mr. Wilson "overlooks the fact that in those disputes in which America is directly concerned we have no vote at all." He also pointed to the provision in article 15 under which any dispute referred to the assembly may be decided by a majority vote and to the assembly's power of approval by a majority vote of the four elective members of the council.

As to Withdrawal

As to the right of withdrawal from the league, Senator New declared the United States would not be the sole judge of whether it had discharged its international obligations at any time it might wish to withdraw, but must submit the question to arbitration. In support of this assertion he contended that under article 13 it is "expressly stated the interpretation of the covenant as well as any pact which might constitute a breach of international obligation is generally suitable for arbitration." Declaration of any nation to arbitrate would mean submission of the question to the council, he added.

"These are not the only misstatements made by the president in his recent discussion of the treaty," Senator New declared. "Such addresses as Mr. Wilson has made on his western trip are not entirely suitable for a serious and accurate discussion of a question of this intricate character; and we may, therefore, be pardoned if we object to any statement concerning it which is not exactly true or the ambiguity of which leaves the public in doubt."

U. S. is Friendless

Warning against interference in European affairs, the Indiana senator declared entrance of the United States into the league of nations would mean pursuance of the course which has brought the country to the point today where it has not a "single friend among the nations." And this course, he said, has been followed in "utter disregard of the caution and advice of the fathers of the nation."

"One of the simplest elements of common sense," said the senator in conclusion, "is the minding of one's own business and the keeping out of other people's business. This treaty with its league attachment provides for the systematic interference of the United States in the affairs of every other nation."

council said the mayor had full authority.

"This was in October, 1918, Fitzpatrick said, and the issue was brought to Washington.

"President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor wrote the mayor," he continued, "and the governor of Pennsylvania. There was no answer."

Fitzpatrick said: "We went to Judge Gary's office and he sent out word asking to be excused from a personal interview but saying we could submit our proposals in writing. We did so, and got a letter from him saying that he did not consider us to be representatives of the men."

"If Judge Gary had consented to this conference would this strike have been called?" asked Senator Kenyon.

"No," Fitzpatrick responded.

"If Judge Gary consents now, will the strike go on?"

"Yes, they are going on now in my opinion until they get justice."

"At that time, had the president's industrial conference been called?"

"No, it had not."

"We'd be interested in having you tell us you couldn't postpone the strike until after that," continued Senator Kenyon.

"The date had been set," Fitzpatrick said. "If we had waited we would have been shot to pieces."

"What do you mean by that?" asked Senator Smith, democrat, Georgia.

"All kinds of intimidations, through the business men," Fitzpatrick said.

"Through the bosses. Men given the choice of tearing up their union cards or quitting their jobs. Shot like Lammie Sellens, one of our organizers at Breckinridge, Pa."

Pressed for an explanation Fitzpatrick introduced a photograph of a dead woman.

"She spoke at one of our meetings," he said. "When the gun men shot an old man, she tried to protect some children with her skirts, then the order was given: 'Kill this one, too.' And they shot her." (A news dispatch from Pittsburgh on August 25 reported the killing of Miss Sellens, but said she was an organizer for the United Mine Workers and was killed in a labor riot near the plant of the Allegheny Coal and Coke company, near Breckinridge, Pa.)

It did not appear that she was concerned in organization for the steel strike.

Pointing his finger at various members of the committee and waving a photograph, Fitzpatrick said a picket—a man sixty years of age—was shot down in cold blood. Several children, he said, were attracted by the firing.

"This woman," he continued, "came around the corner of the alley and saw the children. Then the gunmen appeared. She was afraid the children would be shot. She reached down and pulled up her skirts and pulled them around the children in a corner. Immediately, the gunmen fired and killed her."

"Who were these gunmen?" asked Chairman Kenyon.

"They were employees of the company—hired to terrorize the communities," Fitzpatrick answered. "The deputy sheriffs and gunmen are acting all together."

"What you mean to say," said Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, "is that directly or indirectly these men were influenced or directed by the steel corporation?"

"Yes, they are mill guards," Fitzpatrick replied.

"Public officials?" asked Senator Walsh.

"They are sworn in as deputy sheriffs," the witness explained. "We don't know where they pay comes from."

"It is a fact that this shooting occurred in connection with a coal strike and before the steel trouble isn't it?" asked Senator Phipps, republican, Colorado asked.

"But she was shot to put the fear into our people," Fitzpatrick said.

Fitzpatrick said the charge that most of the strikers were aliens was "a bugaboo raised by newspapers controlled by the steel corporation." He added that since the war, English speaking workers had manned the mills.

"Has there been a prosecution of that case?" Senator Smith inquired.

"It is our experience that you can't get any prosecution of cases like that," the witness said.

"The fact is that the trial in that case has not been held, isn't it?" Senator Phipps asked. "I want that point clear."

Questioned by senators, Fitzpatrick said he was a horse shoer by trade and that his knowledge of conditions in the steel industry had been gained by talks with the workers. He had never been in the plants, he said, as the steel corporation would not admit union organizers.

Twelve hours is the basic day in the steel industry, Fitzpatrick said, though some few skilled men did work eight hours. He said those men might receive $20, $40, or $60 a day, but it was a mere pittance considering the work done and the conditions surrounding it.

"HYPHEN KNIVES STUCK IN TREATY" SAYS PRESIDENT

rejection." He declared that to qualify the ratification would mean asking special privilege for the United States, a thing which would be unworthy of the nation. So the line had been definitely drawn, he added, and the only question to be decided was whether the United States would go into the league or stay out.

It had been one of the purposes of the war, Mr. Wilson said, to set up a permanent peace guarantee. He declared he was "under bond," especially to the children of the country, to make good the promise of such a guarantee. He added that the next world war would be much more terrible than the last.

Should the United States stay out of the league, continued the president, it would have to have "the biggest army in the world," and there would have to be conscription and heavy taxation.

Eulogizing the labor section of the treaty, Mr. Wilson said it would give America an opportunity to raise labor standards all over the world. Until that was done, he asserted, the full energies of the world could not be released.

In his reference to reservations, the president declared the people at last were awake and no longer could be misled about what was in the treaty. He said he had no doubt what the result would be.

Pointing out that the power of negotiating treaties is vested with the executive branch of the government, Mr. Wilson continued:

"When the senate has acted, it will be for me to determine whether its action constitutes an adoption or a rejection."

He added that he hoped the senate would not leave the matter in doubt, but would make its position unmistakable, and would put its action into such form that it would clearly constitute a rejection or an acceptance.

Politics, said the president, should have nothing to do with the treaty discussion.

Dress Shields Gone To Stay

—is opinion of well known modiste on subject vital to every woman

"Dress shields are a thing of the past," said a well-known modiste yesterday when interviewed at her hotel in French Lick.

"I know of no change," she continued, "which has been such a relief to women in general as the banishment of the cumbersome dress shields, which were really no simple the care of the undergarments and prevention of excessive perspiration has become, so that dress shields are no longer necessary."

"From gray-haired matron to the youngest debutante, all seem to have absolute confidence in ODOR-ONO, the one toilet preparation which I myself have found assures absolute personal cleanliness."

With this danger of ruining gowns eliminated, I sell the better-looking, but fine-textured dresses, to patrons who formerly were afraid to invest because of perspiration difficulties."

ODORONO, quoted by this modiste, is the leading toilet preparation for relief from excessive perspiration, and the sure means to perfect cleanliness. It was prepared by a physician and is endorsed by medical authorities. Be sure you get the genuine ODORONO. At all druggists and department stores. Sixty cents and $1.00. Trial size, 30 cents.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer in this vicinity that if two bottles of Allenru, the sure conquerer of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen points and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless.

Allenru relieves at once. Immediately after you start to take it the good work begins. It searches out the uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretions and drives rheumatic poison out of the body through the kidneys and bowels.

It's marvelous how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two days, and even in cases where the suffering is most painful all traces disappear in a few days.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed your druggist to guarantee it in every instance.

Callus? "Gets-It" Will Peel It Off!

Nothing on Earth Like Simple "Gets-It" for Corns or Calluses.

A callus, or thickened skin on the sole of the foot, which often makes walking a misery is of the same nature as a corn. "Gets-It"

Use "Gets-It" and Dance, Even with Corns. It removes it as easily as it does the toughest corn. Using a few drops of "Gets-It" on the callus, you will be able to peel it off with your fingers, in one complete piece just as you would a banana peel. It leaves the skin free and smooth as though you never had a callus. You need no more fancy plasters, sticky tape, "packages" bandages, knives or scissors for corns or calluses. "Gets-It" is the national corn remover. The biggest on earth, used by millions. It never fails. You'll work, play and dance at ease in spite of corns. "Gets-It" is the only sure, guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M.P.D. by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

CORN SAGGED IN MARKET TODAY

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Sept. 25.—Fresh weakness developed in the corn market today as a result of lack of support and owing to continued selling pressure from commission houses.

The sales were said to be largely in the nature of profit-taking on the part of recent buyers. A popular view was that there had been advance enough for the time being, corn at the top yesterday showing an upturn of 12½c to 14½c in nine days. Opening prices, which ranged from 1½c off to ½c gain, with December 1.26½ to 1.27 and May 1.23½ to 1.24½, were followed by material declines all around and then something of a reaction.

Oats gave way with corn. After opening unchanged to ¾c lower, including December at 69½c to 69¾c, the market continued to sag.

Provisions were dull and weak. The ruling factor was the downward tendency of grain and hogs.

Subsequently, reports that corn was conditioning rapidly and that the crop would move earlier than usual had a pronounced bearish effect. The close was heavy, 2½c to 5½c net lower, with December 1.23½ to 1.23¾ and May 1.20½ to 1.21.

HAVE FINE PROGRAM FOR Y. M. C. A. BOYS

Elmer E. Rice, Boys Work Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. has returned from Chicago where he had been to attend a State Secretarial conference of the Y. M. C. A. The convention was one of the best ever held and more largely attended than in any previous year with an enrollment of 120. L. G. Messer, the General Secretary of the Chicago association, A. S. Lichty, General Secretary of Cincinnati, Ohio, K. A. Shoemaker, State Secretary of Illinois, were the prominent speakers during the session.

The one big feature of the conference was the emphasis placed on boys work. A splendid program has been planned by the State committee and when carried out will meet the demand of present day problems. The local boys work will be conducted in conjunction with the state work, affording a most helpful and interesting program for the year.

Mr. Walker, State Boys Secretary of Illinois, will be in Dixon some time soon, in connection with local work.
